

EverythingGrandkids is a free weekly email newsletter and website providing grandparents like you with the latest information on what's new, safe and of interest to your grandkids.

Now You're Cooking

There's a chill in the air, the days are growing shorter, and everyone has a desire for warm food and good company.

With Thanksgiving approaching and the winter holidays right around the corner, it's officially cooking season, and we want to help you and your grandchildren get in on the action.

The Learning Tower is the latest innovation in stepstools and will help your grandkids be active-and safe-participants in whatever you're cooking up in the kitchen. The sturdy platform adjusts as your grandchild grows, and changes easily for different activities. Best of all, the stable base will not tip when your grandchild stands on the tower and it fits flush against average countertops. Let the mixing begin! Recommended for ages 2-6.

Price is $169.95 and is available at www.amazon.com.